The Meridian

Sundays this Month (11:00 AM)

Sept. 1 | Delusions Are Endless, We Vow To Cut Through Them All

Writer Anne Rudloe's talk will be from a Zen perspective. A Zen practitioner for 16 years, Rudloe is a Senior Dharma teacher in the Kwan Um School of Zen headquartered at the Providence Zen Center, in Cumberland, RI. She is also Abbot of the Cypress Tree Zen Group in Tallahassee. Her book, Butterflies on a Sea Wind; Beginning Zen will be out in September. She holds Zazen at UUCT Thursdays at 7 PM.

Guest Speaker: Anne Rudloe; Lay Leader: Mary Millard

Sept. 8 | One Year Later at 'Ground Zero'

The Pentagon is rebuilt, and people are returning to their offices. The field in Pennsylvania must have green on it again. The spot in New York where the Twin Towers stood is empty. The Ground Zeros from 9/11/01 bear scars, but do not contain debris. When men and women are given a project, we work steadily and tend to the details. Clearing away the destruction of last year is a project we have completed. At least on the surface. What is going on below the surface, in our hearts and minds? Is there psychological or spiritual debris in our way, that clutters our forward momentum? New York and the whole country must decide what to build where the towers once towered. Do you know what you will build now? What can we build together?

Rev. Amy

Sept. 15 | Intergenerational Ingathering and Water Ceremony

Bring the water you collected over the summer and your memories of what's worth keeping from the past couple of months. Did you get to "stand and stare" a bit? Did you have any moments of pure joy? Let's talk about them and celebrate!

Rev. Amy and Everybody

Sept. 22 | Gid Uppity!

Do you think that our religious tradition should be galloping ahead on social justice issues? What have we done about that in the past? What should we do for the future?

Rev. Amy

Sept. 29 | We Make Such Beautiful Music Together

You've heard that line before, haven't you? It sounds like whoever said it first was thinking of a big "IF" - if only we could all sing like angels, if only we could read music like professionals, if only we could play an instrument, if only.....I invite you to join me during our annual Music Service as we once again dispel these myths and Sing Our Hearts Out!! We'll also be taking up money to add to our Piano Fund. (See article on p. 7). I look forward to seeing you - and your open mouths - as we come together in celebration of music! Helen Falb, Music Director of UUCT

Minister's Message

By Rev. Amy McKenzie

OPEN HEARTS, OPEN MINDS, OPEN DOOR: OPEN HOUSE!

2534 Arthurs Court Ln. Here's one option for getting there: turn from Park (near Capital Circle) onto Richview. Take first right onto Springforest, then the second right (notice the Stop sign) onto Stonehouse. Just before Stonehouse ends, turn left onto Arthurs Court Ln. We're about halfway up on the right. Ph.# 383-9186. See you!

This is an invitation to UUCT members, friends and their families, young and old alike, to my house on Sunday, September 15 between 3:00 and 6:00 PM. How will we fit everyone in? I trust the human ability to self-organize; some will come at 3, some at 5:30... The choir will be on hand at 4 PM to lead us in a house blessing song, "May Nothing Evil Cross This Door" (# 1 in our hymnal). If you feel the need to bring something, make it edible – to share with everybody. FYI, ours is an alcohol-free home. On hand for the day: Ellen (my partner) and Chloe (our cat). I can promise that Ellen won't bite or hiss...

I'm excited and nervous that you're coming to see the house we own. I wonder, is it ready, yet? There's a lot

Announcements

Help Needed for Sunday Parking

Early fall is a time when we experience many visitors on Sunday mornings, as well as increased attendance from the congregation after time away during the summer. An attendant is needed in the parking lot each Sunday to show visitors where to park and to direct all parking so as to maximize our on site spaces. (Those willing and able need to continue to park on neighborhood streets.) Please consider volunteering as a parking attendant once a month during the remaining six months or so of construction. You'd get a vest to yet to do, and a lot we've done. Come see the new wild grape carpet! Relax in my study, with its freshly painted "gingerbread" and "honey butter" walls! Parade down the entry hall of family pictures!

And then, there's the other side of the equation: Reassure us that tile in the dining room and in front of the fireplace will be installed, in time! Find the room we painted even though the wallpaper stripping process also removed drywall! Marvel at band aid repair jobs, like a block of wood that props up the air return filter! And by all means, say a little prayer for the 20-year old roof, that it might provide another season or two of dry coverage!

As you would with anyone's personal space, you'll no doubt learn something new about me if you come to my home: which art graces the living room walls, how little energy we expend on yard care, and where we store the TV trays.

Likewise, with our church home, we may expect to learn something new about the people we meet there. We encourage understanding of one another and caring intimacy at UUCT. What would it be like if we thought of each Sunday morning, and each time wear and would need to be at your post by 10:30 at the latest. Contact CIC chairperson Trudy Deyle if you'd be willing (422-1057 or gdeyle@juno.com).

Calling All Green Thumbs!

We need a plant maven! The plants in the sanctuary and various locations surrounding it are in dire straits! This is a low-stress, minimal time commitment (two hours a month, tops!). Many need to be repotted, watered or discarded. Let Kathie in the office know if you can help.

we gather for a meeting or learning opportunity as an "open house?" Outside of our own homes, we can't peruse the bookshelves to learn more about each other. So in the course of ordinary conversation, we'd elicit ideas, hopes, and fears. We'd have to share what we care about, describe the activities we're up to, begin discussions with people we've not met before. I'm sure it happens already. Want to do it more? Could you invite a coworker or friend to the September 11th service?

At UUCT, there's a lot we've done, and a lot yet to do. Yes, parking is a bit of a mess during construction. Yes, the playground can be too muddy to use. But we offer religion like no one else in town. We can be excited and nervous that people are visiting. And I think we're ready to open up to them.

Let's say you want to learn one new important thing about someone at church. What would you ask?

In Faith,

Amy

Announcements (Continued)

Still Accepting Last Year's Pledges

If you have not completed your pledge for last year, we hope you do so soon. We will continue to accept payments on last year's pledges. This message is brought to you from your friendly Finance Committee who needs to pay the bills - utilities, salaries, office and RE supplies, etc. Thanks.

Mark Your Checks

- Note the purpose of every check to UUCT in the memo line (pledge, UUSC, shelter meals, etc.).
- Write separate checks for the operating budget (payable to UUCT) and Capital Campaign (payable to UUCT Building Fund).
- At this time of year, indicate whether annual pledge checks are for FY 01-02 or FY 02-03.

Need Reimbursement for a Church Expense?

- Authorization for Reimbursement forms are available in the church box marked: "Reimbursements" or from Kathie Mackie, UUCT Administrative Assistant.
- All requests must be supported by receipts or by a copy of your personal check.
- Include a stamped, self-addressed envelope if you want it mailed to you; otherwise, the reimbursement will be placed in your church box.
- On the Reimbursement Form, "Person Requesting Reimbursement" is the Committee Chair; "Signature and Title of Person Authorizing Request" is the appropriate Board member.
- If you have questions or need additional information, contact Ellen Dempsey, Church Treasurer, (671-2748; richardd@nettally.com).

CLEAN OUT YOUR CLOSETS, KITCHEN AND GARAGE!

Our annual yard sale to raise money for the operating budget is scheduled for Saturday, October 19, so this is a reminder to start cleaning out your closets, storage rooms, kitchen, and garage. We will accept anything you don't want that is still usable: clean clothing, dishes, household items, small appliances, toys, knick knacks, paperback and hardback books, shoes, gizmos, electronics, purses, computer software, etc. With enough advance notice, we can pick up whatever you can't bring the day before the sale.

Additional details to follow. Call Maria Mena (907-0739) if you have questions and to volunteer.

Notes from The Mountain

By Jean Chulak, Mountain Ambassador

HEADS UP, ADVENTURERS! The Mountain has two fall programs that should be of interest to you. All equipment is provided.

September 29-October 3 (Sun-Thu), MountainScape Fall Canoeing Week. You will see beautiful fall colors and learn a variety of canoeing skills from a canoe instructor certified by the American Canoe Association. We will start with the basic skills on our pond and progress to more challenging trips that may take us to southern classics like the Nantahala, Tuckasegee or Chattooga Rivers. You'll also learn how to plan your own paddling trips.

October 4-6 (Fri-Sun), MountainScape Rock-Climbing Adventure. You will learn the basic skills of rock climbing, including choosing and fitting safety equipment, moving in the vertical world, belaying another climber, and reducing the risks. You will also have the opportunity to learn more advanced concepts as you begin to prepare to climb with other people. This program is open to everyone 14 and over.

FOR MORE INFORMATION about these programs or The Mountain itself, contact Jean Chulak (385-2214; jeanchulak@aol.com). You may also make direct contact with The Mountain Retreat and Learning Centers, Highlands, NC (828-526-5838 or www.mountaincenters.org).

Facilities Update

By Trudy Deyle, Capital Improvement Committee Chair

SITE WORK. The summer rains slowed site work down for several weeks, but the weather has been more cooperative lately, and work has been proceeding. For now, one layer of asphalt will be put down for new parts of the driveway, and current asphalt that is remaining will be left as is. Existing asphalt will also be removed in several places, per City permitting requirements. A final layer of asphalt will be put down over all paved areas once the building is completed.

TREE CONSULTATION. Several weeks ago, a large tree fell from an undisturbed area - a tree that appeared healthy but actually had a partially decayed root ball. Such a fall can occur when a vulnerable tree is more exposed to the elements than it was formerly. After this fall, Mad Dog arranged for Gibbes Tree Service to do a consultation with us on protective measures we might take with our trees during construction, in addition to the current fencing and trunk protection. Members of the CIC and Buildings and Grounds Committee met with Gibbes and subsequently made a recommendation to have them do some preventative work for us, provided funds can be found to do so. A key point made by Gibbes was that tree health and tree decay are not related; a tree can appear healthy but actually be decaying. They pointed out that most of our trees are decay-prone species, but we are fortunate to have trees of all ages on our property, so there are always new ones coming along as others mature and die.

BEHIND THE SCENES. Our construction manager and architect have been working hard behind the scenes ironing out final details for the new building. By the time you read this, the footings and foundation will be poured or be very close to being poured. Representatives from the CIC met with the architect to decide on interior and exterior colors. (Materials and brands being used had been decided upon earlier as construction drawings were being developed.) In choosing colors for the inside, we aimed for consistency throughout the building for ease of repairing and repainting, neutral and light colors for the most part, and flooring that would not show dirt or scuff marks easily. For outside colors, we sought to compliment but not match the current buildings, since we can no longer get exactly the same concrete block.

SANCTUARY IMPROVEMENTS. The CIC had planned to re-carpet the sanctuary first, then order new chairs, so they would not have to be moved for the re-carpeting. However, we have decided not to re-carpet until Phase One is complete, and there is no longer the possibility of tracking in dirt and mud. Meanwhile, a number of our current sanctuary chairs have broken recently, so we have gone ahead and ordered the new chairs decided upon with congregational input (Church Chair Industries' Elite model with a gray frame and quartz fabric). We have ordered 180 chairs, one quarter of them with arms. When the sanctuary is expanded in a later phase, we will order 70 more chairs for a total of 250. The chairs will be delivered by semi-truck sometime in September. To keep shipping costs down, the truck is unloaded where it is parked, and the customer moves the chairs inside. Watch email and Sunday announcements for requests for help once we get the arrival date!

As always, should you have comments or questions, please contact me or another member of the CIC.

Green Corner

Wanted: fresh (environmentally sustainable) fish!

Environmental Defense, the environmental organization formerly known as the Environmental Defense Fund, has developed a web-based tool called the "Seafood Selector." The website provides information that can help you choose fish that are not harvested or farmed in environmentally damaging ways. It also includes recipes!

The top 10 best fish include the following: anchovies; caviar from farmed sturgeon and paddlefish; channel catfish; Pacific geoduck clams; Dungeness and stone crabs; crawfish; Alaskan halibut, hoki (new Zealand cod); Spanish and Atlantic mackerel; Mahi Mahi; Mediterranean, New Zealand green, and farmed blue mussels; Pacific, edible (European), and farmed eastern oysters [bay oysters harvested by tonging, as in Apalachicola Bay, also are OK]; wild (not farmed) Alaskan salmon; sardines; trap-caught spot and Northern shrimp and northern shrimp from Newfoundland; farmed and wild striped bass; and blue, Mozambique, and Nile tilapia (all farm-raised).

The 10 worst include the following: wild, imported caviar; Atlantic cod; grouper; Atlantic halibut; monkfish and goosefish; orange roughy; rockfish (Pacific red snapper); farmed and wild Atlantic salmon and farmed Pacific salmon; Atlantic calico scallops; shark; farmed and most wild shrimp and prawns; skate; snapper; swordfish; toothfish (Chilean sea bass); and bluefin tuna.

Please see the website for recipes and for details about why individual fish are better or worse:

www.environmentaldefense.org/sustainablefishing. You also can check on your favorite fish if it is not listed here (they cover 150 kinds).

Wanted: fresh ideas!

Do you have a few short tips for green living that you'd like to share with other members of the UUCT congregation? Or would you like to write a whole "Green Corner" article on a specific topic? Call Bob Deyle at 422-1057 or send him an email care of Trudy at gdeyle@juno.com.

From our Music Director

By Helen Falb

Our piano fund now has $ 2200.64. We will be continuing our efforts to raise money during our annual Music Sunday Service on Sunday, September 29. Please mark your calendar so you'll be sure to be at this celebration of the joy which music can bring to our lives and our congregation in particular. In addition, an anonymous, music-loving donor has generously offered to match any funds raised at that service to go towards the purchase of our dream piano! I'd like to invite all members and friends who may be getting impatient to join in our efforts. SO.....

BIG news about a Music Committee meeting:

I'd like to call together those of you who have expressed a special interest in giving your input on all things musical, and specifically regarding the purchase of a new piano. We'll be meeting on Monday night, September 16 at 7:15 in Room 5.

We'll be collaborating to come up with recommendations to give to the board and congregation. Please try to attend.

If you can't make the service on the 29th of September but would like to make a contribution, please mail your check, marked "Piano Fund" on the memo line, to the church. If you can't make the meeting, but would like to give your input, either e-mail me (helen@townbeacon.com) or call me (309-6853). Thank you very much.

One in a Blue Moon ...

UUCT used to have a Saturday Coffee House featuring live entertainment from singers, poets, writers, comedians, and musicians of all kinds. Would you be interested in participating, volunteering, baking, making cappuccinos, or lending certain items (such as espresso machines) to the Coffee House? Your item would be used on Saturday and returned to you Sunday. Baked goods would be sold at the coffee house and (if any are left) used Sunday for Hospitality or returned to the baker at the end of the Coffee House. The object is to have the same baked goods and café drinks you'd find at a local café, with entertainment from our members and local community artists and artistes. If you're interested in participating or volunteering please call Mary Millard at 980-8980. We hope to have this event about three times per year (once in a Blue Moon), starting in October ... but only if there's enough interest to sustain it! Call soon!

Uh-Oh... We Should Have Volunteered for Clean-Up

by Dr. Seuss-not

We'd sure hate to stop Sunday Hospitality,
But our "finders of cleaners" have sapped their vitality.

They've stayed and cleaned up 'cause there wasn't a "hand"

To help with the Clean-Up, as already planned.

They know you're all busy – but, see, they are, too.

What really would help are some minutes from you.

You know the old saying, "many hands make light work,"

And the chat in the kitchen is fun – it's a "perk"!

So if you enjoy having coffee and snacks,
And you have fifteen minutes – that's all we need, max!

Pick up some coffee cups, maybe some plates,
And deliver them in to the Clean Up Crew, mates.

You could join with the group in the kitchen
who's cleaning

Instead of upon the church walls simply leaning.

You could help Victor Venos to put up the tables,

Or sweep, or wipe up -- any small job you're able.

If you signed up to "clean" on the list, "Gifts of Self"

Remember this, join us – be a Kitchen "elf"!

We've prodded, we've asked, and yes, even pleaded

For help in the clean-up is desperately needed.

We're happy – we're getting our coffee and snacks,

But Clean-Up, compared, is still suffering lacks.

We have faith in our members, we know you can do it!

Take out trash, wash up dishes, and chat –
let's get to it!

Thanks as always to Eleanor & Earl Enge, Jeri Lee Wagner, and the indispensable Victor Venos! Call Eleanor (926-9352) to volunteer.

A CALL FOR HOSTS & HOSTESSES

Dinners for 8 and Dinners for Families with Children start up again in September.

On Sunday, September 8 after the service and during the potluck, there will be a sign-up table for those interested in being dinner hosts and hostesses. Your offer can be for occasional or once-a-month dinners, September - May. You set the menu and provide the main dish, as casual or gourmet as you like; your guests bring the rest. And you are free to sign-up as a guest for dinners others are hosting, if you like!

Dinners for 8 is adults only, with all parents welcome. Dinners for Families with Children is for parents and their children. A primary purpose for all the dinners is to provide opportunities for newcomers to meet longer-term members and friends of our congregation. Once we have a group of hosts and hostesses, dinner dates will be announced for the early fall, and sign-up sheets for guests will be placed on the counter at the back of the sanctuary. If you miss the September 8 sign-up, contact Membership Chair Trudy Deyle (422-1057) or gdeyle@juno.com).
